

Registration form for COMPUTE course
“An introduction to deep learning”

The course “An introduction to deep learning” will be given in the first study period of the autumn term 2018 (September and October 2018). Students of all backgrounds are invited to register for the course. Some experience with programming is required. More details about the course can be found at the COMPUTE website <http://cbbp.thep.lu.se/Compute/Courses.php>.

Spaces in the course are limited, so please register as soon as possible to increase your chances of being admitted. Please return this form by 2 July 2018. You must be enrolled in the COMPUTE research school to register for the course; please check the COMPUTE website for instructions on how to join the research school.
